WOULD ERECT A PEACE MEMORIAL

G and Army and United Confederate Veterans Join in Plan to Erect Memorial of Great Anniversary here in July.

Thirty four Union veterans and an equal number of Confederate veterans have organized the Gettysburg Peace Memorial Association to erect a memorial on the Gettysburg Battlefield to commemorate the great peace jubilee held here in July. The opening article of the association says:

"The purpose of the Gettysburg Peace Memorial Association is to obtain from the Congress of the United States an adequate appropriation, together with the appointment of a commission, to erect a peace monument on the battlefield of Gettysburg in commemoration of the great fraternal and patriotic meeting held there—on the fiftieth anniversary of the battle, July 1-4, 1913—between more than 50,000 survivors of the war of 1861-65—from the North and South. It is believed that this wonderful meeting of the Blue and Gray in peace, good will and loyalty, marked the harmonious unification of the nation as one people with a common destiny; and ought, therefore, to be commemorated with a peace monument on the battlefield, which shall also serve to exalt the sentiment and responsibility of national patriotism with all the people of our great country."

The following compose the board of directors of the association which hopes to put through the project J. Thompson Brown, Julian S. Carr, Andrew Cowan, S. A. Cunningham, Washington Gardner, Thomas S. Hopkins, Horatio C. King, Elisha H. Rhodes, Felix H. Robertson, Eli Torrance, C. Irvine Walker, A. J. West.

Former Mumsbags Man Badly Hurt in Iowa Town.

The Missouri Valley, Iowa, "Daily Times" tells of an accident to W. E. Wisler, formerly of Mumsbags. In its issue of September 18 the "Times" said:

"An unfortunate accident befell W. E. Wisler this morning at about 8:45 o'clock while at his work in the engine room at the Railroad shops. His thumb on the right hand was taken off at the hand, and the tendons were pulled out by the roots. He was immediately hurried to Dr. Heise's office and given surgical attention. Drs. Heise and Tamsiea waited on him, and gave him the necessary anaesthetics. It was a bad accident and will lay Mr. Wisler up for quite a while. He is a man 68 years of age and it will take him much longer to recover from it than it would a younger man."

ANNOUNCE NEW HIGHWAY PLAN

Latest Idea of Good Roads Advocates is Highway from North to South. Gettysburg Interested in the Mammoth Project.

With the Lincoln Memorial Highway connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts assured of success with about $4,000,000 subscribed of the necessary $10,000,000, the Manufacturers' Record is starting a movement for an Atlantic seaboard highway connecting the North with the fast developing South, in which Gettysburg will be much more interested.

After approving the Lincoln highway project, the Record says: "This highway, more important in many respects than that connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific, would connect the North and the West with Florida and the Gulf Coast and then on to Texas."

"A great highway, built of the best materials, open for travel at all seasons of the year, running from New York to Florida and thence along the Gulf Coast to New Orleans, and another highway from the Central West connecting at some point on the Gulf coast with this North and South highway would make it possible to unite North, South and West in a closer relationship than has ever existed before. This highway would make possible material developments and an increase in business interests between the South and North and the West which would make it worth many times its cost."

"As the nation's greatest undeveloped asset, the development of which will enrich this country beyond the dreams of to-day, the South with a highway such as this would benefit to an almost limitless extent the whole nation. This highway would open up to hundreds of thousands of tourists and health-seekers and home-seekers the opportunity of spending the winters along the South Atlantic and gulf coasts, or at other points in the South which could be reached by motor trips. To this main highway, which should be built in the most substantial manner, countries and states would, of course, construct connecting lines of feeders. The building of such a highway would stimulate road building throughout the South."

"The Manufacturers' Record commends this thought not only to the men who are active in this Lincoln highway undertaking but to the great capitalists of the South, men who have made millions in this section and who are investing millions in its development. There are men identified with Southern interests who could organize such a campaign and head the subscription with half a million dollars or more and never miss the money."

GET RELEASE FOR TREIBER

E. J. Treiber, of New Oxford, is Released on Habeas Corpus Proceedings. Forgery and False Pretense the Charges.

E. J. Treiber, of New Oxford, arrested recently on charges of forgery and false pretense and committed to the Adams County jail after a hearing before Squire R. M. Straley, of New Oxford, was released on Thursday after a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Swope.

Treiber, it was alleged, had forged the name of his wife, Jennie Treiber, on a note for $40 and, using this note, had secured three horses from Mervin Kennedy. The false pretense charge was based on the presentation of the note bearing the alleged forgery.

He was brought to the county jail on August 29 and, after he had been confined there for almost four weeks, the habeas corpus proceedings were instituted to secure his release. At the hearing there was not sufficient evidence to justify his being held and the release was granted, Treiber returning to New Oxford.

John D. Keith Esq. represented the defendant.

BIG DAMAGE TO CHESTNUT TREES

Blight Catches Chestnut Trees on the Mountain. Many Chestnuts this Year but Quality is Decidedly Inferior.

During the past two weeks dozens of large chestnut trees, some of which were almost covered with burrs, have died from the effects of the chestnut blight, which is fast destroying the chestnut trees throughout portions of the Blue Ridge Mountains. A few days ago the trees were very green and full of leaves; now they are barren with the exception of the chestnut burrs, which resemble small knots on twigs.

With the advent of frost and the tints with which it has touched up the foliage, the chestnut burrs are beginning to burst and reveal their contents.

There is an abundance of burrs according to reports and of a good size, but the chestnuts are disappointing.

They are exceedingly small and give little promise of maturing into anything near a normal sized nut. Early in the season the trees were fully blossomed and there was promise of a bumper crop, but the yield will be way below expectations. The greatest quantity of nuts will be gathered along the sides and near the foot of the mountains. Trees on the summit are but lightly laden.

SULZER COURT TO HEAR ALL

Admits Testimony of All Campaign Contributions.

HIS LAWYERS' VAIN BATTLE

Prosecution Promises to Reveal Many More Charges—Governor Had Scored Couple Points Previous to Decision.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The high court of impeachment for the trial of Governor Sulzer unanimously voted in favor of admitting all testimony in reference to alleged campaign contributions received by the governor, whether specified in the articles of impeachment or not.

This decision came after Sulzer had scored victories in legal disputes over the admission and rejection of testimony favorable and unfavorable to his case.

The point that brought about the vote admitting all testimony touching campaign money arose on the testimony of Morris Tekulsky, a New York liquor dealer, and former president of the New York City Liquor Dealers' association. He had known William Sulzer for twenty-three years, he said, and considered himself an intimate acquaintance.

When he started to tell about the organization's contributions to Sulzer, Mr. Marshall, one of Sulzer's attorneys, objected, supporting his objection by a lengthy argument. He maintained that there was nothing in the articles of impeachment regarding the witness. The purpose of the articles of impeachment, he contended, was to give notice to a respondent of the nature of the accusations against him and to afford him time to prepare to answer.

Mr. Stanchfield, opposing attorney, in reply declared that the managers "have secured and are prepared to prove that Sulzer received a large number of contributions vastly in excess of those which appear on the face of the charges. There is no question as a matter of law but that this evidence is admissible."

Presiding Judge Cullen then gave a long opinion on the question, at the end of which he announced he would overrule the motion and submit it to a vote of the court. The presiding judge said that if the case were a criminal trial he would be disposed to exclude evidence on charges not specified in the indictment. "This case," however, he said, "should be construed with a greater latitude."

He added that article 6 of the impeachment had mentioned the receipt of $30,000 by the governor, without naming the donors, and that counsel for the respondent had ample opportunity to ask for a bill of particulars. "This," said Judge Cullen, "they did not do."

On resuming the stand Tekulsky told of handing Sulzer a $50 check at the close of a Tammany Hall rally. He was excused without testifying with regard to any other contributions.

Charles A. Stadler, president of the American Malting company, told of collecting contributions for Governor Sulzer from brewing interests in New York and Albany. Sulzer told him that he preferred cash to checks, he said.

Charles Dersch, a salesman for the American Malting company, testified that on Oct. 15 he took two checks to Sulzer. Dersch said he told the governor the checks were "for campaign purposes." "Sulzer told me if I gave him any more checks, kindly to have them cashed," said Dersch.

On Oct. 23, he said, he delivered $700 in bills to the governor at his house. "The governor wasn't there," he continued. "I gave it to his wife. She took it and put it in a desk." On another occasion Dersch said he took some money to Sulzer's house on a Sunday morning.

"Why did you go on a Sunday morning?" asked a senator. "Mr. Sulzer asked me," Dersch replied. "He said he needed the money for traveling expenses. I took it to him in currency, having cashed the checks at a bank. He told me that cash would be more convenient if you want to know what his wife said I'll tell you," volunteered the witness.

"When I want to know what she said I'll ask you," remarked Mr. Stanchfield. Bird S. Coler, the next witness, said he had known William Sulzer for a "long time." Mr. Coler said that on Oct. 24 he had written Sulzer a letter enclosing a check for $100. The letter was written from Santa Fe, N. M. "I wrote him," said Mr. Coler, "that he was sure of being elected and that he would not need much money in the campaign."

"I didn't receive any acknowledgment of the check," said Mr. Coler. "I received acknowledgment of my kind words of encouragement."

"That's all a number of others seem to have got," commented Stanchfield. The question whether the use which Governor Sulzer made of the $2500 given him by Jacob H. Schiff constituted larceny, precipitated a heated argument. No final decision was given by the court. Upon its determination depends the question whether the governor is guilty of the most serious charge against him. In the event it should be shown in every instance that no restriction was placed by the donors on the gifts of money received by Mr. Sulzer during his campaign.

Young sows that do well with their first litters may usually be considered good brood sows.

FELKER ADVISED TO EXTRADITE THAW

Attorney General Decides N. Y.
Demand is Proper.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 26.—That Attorney General James P. Tuttle has advised Governor Felker to honor the request of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was learned upon apparently good authority.

The attorney general is said to take the attitude that the New York papers are in proper form and that it is unnecessary for the governor to go below their surface in an inquiry into the facts of the case upon which they are based.

But Governor Felker, who is himself a lawyer, is understood to attach importance to obtaining further information on the subject of the reported indictment of Thaw by the Dutchess county, N. Y., grand jury for conspiracy in connection with his escape from the Mateawan insane asylum.

No indictment has been made public, but William Travers Jerome said in arguing New York's petition for extradition before Governor Felker on Tuesday that an indictment had been found, but had been kept secret at his request. It is said that until the governor learns more definitely just what attitude has been taken by the Dutchess county grand jury he probably will defer his decision in regard to signing the extradition warrant.

It is believed that the governor will grant the request made by Thaw's counsel that they be allowed until Oct. 6 to file additional briefs in the extradition matter.

BIGELOW IS INDICTED

Motor Club Hales Penna. Highway Commissioner Into Court.

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 26.—Charged with misdemeanor in office, E. M. Bigelow, state highway commissioner; E. A. Jones, S. D. Foster and Arthur S. Clay, his assistants, were indicted by the Northumberland county grand jury for failure to keep state roads between Shamokin and Paxinos and Shamokin and Mount Carmel in repair.

The information was sworn to by Frank H. Vought, of Mount Carmel, representing the Shamokin and Mount Carmel Motor clubs.

Judge Cummings directed that the defendants be cited to appear in the court. For several months the motor clubs have been trying to keep the roads in good shape. They have had all the supervisors brought into court and threatened with jail. Their roads were put in good shape. All that remained was the two stretches in question.

$3000 Exempted For Single Persons,
$4000 For the Married, But No Allowance For Children.

Washington, Sept. 26.—A change was made in the income tax provision, which was agreed upon by the tariff conferees. The conferees agreed on $3000 as the amount of income of a single person that shall be free from the tax.

For a married man the exemption will be $4000, with no further exemption for children. The senate had included an exemption of $500 for each child, not to exceed two. Only one exemption of $4000 will be allowed for a family, even though the husband and wife have separate incomes.

The conferees decided to put burlap on the free list, to leave grain bags on the dutiable list, and to reduce the house rate of 20 per cent on plain jute fabrics, bleached, to 10 per cent.

The conference report will be made to the house on Saturday, it is expected, and to the senate on Monday. Few points remain to be settled, but the preparation of the report will require some time.

Great interest centered about the decision to exempt from the income tax parts of premiums on mutual life insurance policies returned to policyholders as dividends. This action was unexpected, as the amendments originally made by the senate had been dropped before the bill went into conference.

Under the decision reached all life insurance companies writing mutual policies and mutual marine insurance companies are treated alike. No part of their income is exempted except that part of the premium on any policy returned as a dividend or rebate.

The conferees decided the provision was still within their jurisdiction and that they had authority to make the change. Holders of mutual insurance policies and insurance officers throughout the country have urged such an exemption.

Presidential mediation succeeded so well that the conferees returned to the capitol and later agreed upon almost every disputed point in the bill. A complete agreement is expected except upon the proposed tax on cotton "futures."

This was not settled, as the president declined to be arbiter of this dispute. As a result the conferees will report a disagreement to the two houses, and the final enactment of the bill will be delayed. This difference may be cleared up in time to permit the bill being sent to the president for his signature early next week. The president had hoped to sign it on Saturday night, but this now seems hardly possible.

The deadlock is over the Clarke senate amendment, which provides for a tax of one-tenth of a cent a pound, or 50 cents a bale, on cotton "future" transactions.

A compromise known as the Smith-Lever plan, has been suggested in the house, and it is reported will be pushed when the disagreement is reported.

This compromise would compel all contracts for future cotton delivery to specify government grades, and would compel delivery of the cotton to be at that grade, the difference to be settled at the prevailing commercial prices. This plan, modeled on the bill of Senator Smith, of South Carolina, and perfected by Postmaster General Burleson and Representative Lever, is said to have strong support from the southern senators.

TO EXHUME WOMAN'S BODY

Action Follows Finding of Poison on Miss Warfield's Body.

Westminster, Md., Sept. 26.—Upon the receipt of a chemist's report that a vial found in the bed upon which Miss Ella Warfield died at her home, near Skyesville, two months ago, contained poison, State's Attorney Weant, of Carroll county, announced definitely that he would have the body exhumed and an autopsy performed.

Miss Warfield, who was a relative of former Governor Warfield, was ill for only a few hours. The doctor's death certificate gave the cause of death as acute indigestion, but the publication recently of peculiar circumstances surrounding her death led to an investigation by the county authorities.

Now that the chemist has definitely declared that it was poison in the bottle the post mortem examination will be directed first to a search for symptoms of an extremely deadly drug. If they are found the state's attorney will still have the question of suicide or intentional or accidental poisoning by another person to solve.

LEGACY FOR VET LEGALLY DECEASED

Man Claims Money in Pottsville After 60 Years.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 26.—William Thomas, of Marshalltown, Iowa, absent sixty years and held legally dead, returned at a special session of the orphans' court received a bequest of $475 left by John Jenkins, of St. Clair, who died in 1871.

Thomas met his sister, Mrs. Mary Lucas, whom he had not seen for sixty years. The Thomas case reads like fiction. Thomas came to this country in 1833 and lived at St. Clair several years before he married Elizabeth Williams, of Beaver county. They went west and were practically lost for sixty years.

A relative died in Wisconsin, leaving Thomas $300. The Wisconsin authorities failed to find Thomas and he was declared legally dead. His estate was divided between three cousins.

When the bequest of John Jenkins, of St. Clair, came to light after the death of his widow, several years were spent by attorneys in an effort to find Thomas. Hearing that he had been declared legally dead in Wisconsin, the Pottsville authorities advertised and were surprised when Thomas walked into the office.

After leaving Pottsville Thomas had become a soldier in the Civil War and afterwards an inmate of the soldiers' home at Marshalltown, Iowa.

NOT TO CONTEST WILL

Mayor Gaynor's Daughters Who Got $1000 Each "Are Satisfied."

New York, Sept. 26.—Although Mayor Gaynor left only $1000 to each of his two married daughters, Mrs. W. Seward Webb, Jr., and Mrs. Harry K. Vingt, and a home and $3000 a year to Mrs. Gaynor, it is very unlikely that there will be a contest over the will.

Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Vingt announced that they are satisfied with the provisions. Norman Gaynor, who comes into a two-sevenths share of the estate when he reaches his twenty-first year, has told a longtime friend of the family that it made no difference what his mother was left under the will, because he would look out for her in any event.

Mrs. Webb, who was Gertrude Gaynor, said: "I am glad that the boys are well taken care of."

The only expression that Mrs. Vingt, who was Edith Gaynor, made on the subject was: "We are perfectly satisfied with the will. An explanation may be made in due time."

Alarm For Manuel's Bride.

Berlin, Sept. 26.—Prince William of Hohenzollern requested that his daughter, Princess Victoria Augustine, who married ex-King Manuel of Portugal on Sept. 5, be removed to Sigmarin gen, but the physician of the Princess of Thurn and Taxis, who is attending Princess Victoria at the Munich hospital, said that she could not be moved at present. The relatives of the princess at once hastened to Munich.

ARRANGE WORLD SERIES DATES

First Game to Be Played in New York on Oct. 7.

GROUND RULE ABOLISHED

National Committee Won't Allow Spectators on Field—Admission Tickets Will Cost From $1 to $5.

Philadelphia, Sept. 26. — The first game in the interleague base ball championship, more commonly known as the World's Series, between the Philadelphia Athletics, of the American League, and the New York Giants, of the National League, will be played on the Polo Grounds, New York, on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 7, commencing at 2 o'clock.

This was settled at a meeting of the National Base Ball Commission at the Bellevue-Stratford. The national commission is the final court of appeals in base ball, and it is under its jurisdiction that the World's Series games are played. The commission is composed of the president of each league, Ban B. Johnson, of the American, and Thomas J. Lynch, of the National, and August Hermann, of Cincinnati, chairman, who is selected by the two presidents.

As the Giants have not clinched the National League pennant it was agreed that the toss of the coin would be between the National and American leagues, but President Harry Hempstead, of the New York club, called the toss and won. Chairman Hermann tossed a bright new half dollar and President Hempstead called "head." It was a head, and immediately John B. Foster, secretary of the Giants, said: "Tuesday, Oct. 7, for us."

The official scorers are Francis D. Richter and Taylor Spink.

The prices of seats for the series are: New York—$25 for boxes of four seats; $3 for upper grand stand reserved seats; $2 for lower grand stand seats, not reserved; $1 for bleacher seats. One-fifth of the seating capacity of 38,000 is reserved.

Philadelphia—Box seats, $5 each; reserved seats in the main grand stand $3 each; reserved seats in right and left field pavilions, $2; bleachers, $1. Two-thirds of the seating capacity is reserved.

When the Giants and Athletics played before the Athletics reserved but 9000 of the 24,000 seats; now they are reserving 20,000 of the 25,000 seats in the grounds.

No photographers will be allowed on the field excepting those employed on the daily newspapers, and they must be off the field before the game begins.

There will be no ground rules. This is an innovation. In the past the spectators have been allowed to crowd on the field and all over the ground as long as they paid their money, which caused ropes to be placed in the field and made hits into the crowd good for only two bases. This year no one will be allowed on the playing field except the players, and every hit will go for what it is worth.

No ticket will be sold through the mail; all applications for tickets for the series must be made in person to the secretary of either club. The national commission will have nothing whatever to do with the distribution of tickets.

The series beginning in New York on Tuesday, Oct. 7, will be resumed in Philadelphia on the day following, and the games will alternate daily. Should there be a postponement due to rain before five innings are played the teams will remain in the city where the postponement occurs until a legal game is played, but should a game result in a tie after five innings are played the regular schedule will be adhered to, and the next contest will be played in the other city.

Veteran Cuts Two Teeth at 78.
Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—Cutting two teeth at the age of seventy-eight years is the unique experience of John A. Johnson, who lives at Thirty-eighth and Market streets, and who is a veteran of the Civil War. The teeth are front, one upper and one lower, and replace two that served faithfully until two months ago.

New Philadelphia Postmaster.
Washington, Sept. 26. — John A. Thornton's nomination for postmaster of Philadelphia was sent to the senate by President Wilson. The nomination was at once confirmed, a somewhat unusual procedure due to the entire accord of all interested in the selection. Thornton is a former magistrate and is now a real estate assessor.

Broke His Spine on Gridiron.
Worcester, Mass., Sept. 26. — The first serious injury of the football season occurred during the game between Norwich university and Holy Cross, when Vernon Belyea, left half-back for the first mentioned team, received a fracture of the sixth vertebrae. The injury to the player's spine may cause his death.

10,000 Cartridges Seized.
Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 26.—Ten thousand cartridges, which it is declared were to have been shipped into Mexico, were seized by agents of the department of justice here, and Joseph Slater, a pawnbroker, was arrested, charged with violation of the neutrality laws. Other arrests are expected.

100,000 VISITORS AT ALLENTOWN FAIR

Local Crowd is Augmented by Forty-four Excursions.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 26. — People had made up their minds to go to the Allentown fair yesterday and the attendance was claimed by the officers to be 100,000.

The crowd was swelled by forty-four excursions over all the railroads centering in Allentown, 3000 coming from Philadelphia by trolley.

The center of attraction to most of the people until the start of the races was the poultry show. Cups for prizes were awarded as follows:

Cup for best silver laced Wyandotte male, Dr. J. T. H. Carnsbury, Hanover, Pa.; cup for best Columbian Wyandotte pullet, Dr. J. S. Rittenhouse, Lorraine, Pa.; cup for best Black Langshan, Enoch Williams; Taylor trophy for best pen of single comb white leghorns, Endicott Farms, New Brunswick, N. J.; cup for best bird in Mediterranean class, Endicott Farms, for white leghorn cockerel; cup for best single comb brown leghorns, Charles J. Norris, Phillipsburg, N. J.; cup for best dark cornish male, John W. Ward, Jr., Pennington, N. J.; cup for best Golden Campine, Schenley Heights Farm, Pittsburgh; cup for the best Sampline of the Pridhomme strain, Schenley Heights Farm.

It was woman's day at the fair and the crowds made it a point to surge through the big exhibition buildings to admire the handwork of the women of Lehigh county. There are on display probably 10,000 specimens of preserves, canned fruits and jellies and 10,000 more of needlework and other articles pertaining to domestic manufacture.

A special certificate of merit as a fruit grower was awarded to Squire Percy W. Fenstermaker, whose care of the great peach orchard owned by Colonel Harry C. Trexler resulted this season in a crop of 60,000 baskets.

FIND SKELETON IN WALL

Casket With Remains of Child Discovered in Mansion.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 26.—In the wrecking of the mansion at Clinton, Ill., erected forty years ago by Colonel Thomas Snell, a casket containing the skeleton of a child was found skillfully concealed in the walls of the structure.

An inquest was held, but no clue to the mystery was forthcoming. The homestead has been untenanted since the death of Colonel Snell, whose will, disposing of a large fortune, was the subject of long and sensational litigation a few years ago.

Injured "Fan" Gets $5622.
Reading, Pa., Sept. 26. — Herman Folkman, who was injured by the collapse of the grand stand at Lauer's Park ball ground, was granted a verdict of $5622 by the jury against Frank P. Lauer, owner of the property. Lauer asserted that the Tri-State ball team, which held the lease at the time, should have been sued. Other suits are pending.
